Students in Agronomy, Soils &

Environmental Sciences (SASES)

Many undergraduates participate in SASES clubs through their universities. The clubs hold regular meetings throughout the academic year and offer many programs and activities that will showcase your work, including:

- Club Poster Presentation Contests
- Crop Judging Contests
- Soil Judging Contests
- Manuscript Contests
- Research Symposium Contests
- Speech Contests
- Visual Presentation Contests
- And many more

Most clubs offer special seminars, tours, and service projects. You do not need to be a member of a club to be an undergraduate member of the Societies, but if a club is available we highly recommend you take advantage of this fun, beneficial experience.
